Geography Knowledge Organiser– Spring 1
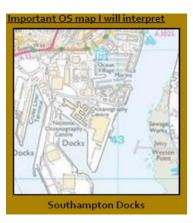

Why is fairtrade fair?

Key objective

Understand what trade is, how it operate between countries and why fairtrade is considered beneficial for producers in poorer regions of the world

Important trade routes I will know the significance of

The Silk Road

Important commodies

Bananas and Cotton

Important charity I will know more about

The Fairtrade Foundation

Important Places I will visit

China

Important OS map I will interpret

Southampton Docks

OS Map Symbols

Important vocabulary I will learn

Goods	objects that are produced or manufactured and then bought by people
Services	skills, amenities and experiences that people pay others for but are not physical things
Consumer	someone who buys goods and services to use
Producer	someone who makes goods or provides services
Ethical	considering the moral rights and wrongs of situations encountered in life
Co-operative	a business which is owned and run by its members and who share the profits
Premium	a price for a product higher than what would normally be paid
Guarantee	an assurance that something promised will be honoured
Estuary	the place where a river widens as it enters the sea and fresh and slaty water mix
Port	a place along a coastline where ships load and unload their cargo
Domestic	happening within a country
International	happening between countries
Export	sell goods and services to another country
Import	buy goods and services from another country

Important geographical concepts I will understand

Trade	buying or selling goods and services between people and countries
Transport	moving people and goods from one place to another using a vehicle, aircraft or ship
Interdependence	how people and their environments are connected and rely upon each other
Economic activity	manufacturing a good or providing a service that is bought by people.
Sustainability	improving the quality of life of people without having a negative impact on the environment
Route	a way or course taken by land, sea or air from one place to another