

Outdoor Learning

What is Outdoor Learning?

- Allows children to develop skills, knowledge and understanding without the constraints of a classroom.

Why is Outdoor Learning so important?

- Children develop important communication skills
- Aids independence and individualism

Which careers are linked to Outdoor Learning?

- The possibilities are endless! From working with animals, plants, protecting the environment, to countryside planning, protection of our green places, to teaching others to appreciate the wonders of our planet.

The Benefits of Outdoor Learning

What are the Outdoor Learning strands I will learn?

1. The Great Outdoors.

- Map work
- Orienteering
- Team Building

2. Sustainability and Design.

- Reduce, Reuse, Recycle
- Designing for the future

3. Botany and Ecology

- Classification/habitats of mini-beasts
- Classification/habitats of trees
- Classification/habitats of Birds
- Classification/habitats of Flowers

